UTAH COUNTY COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT APPLICATION FOR CONDITIONAL USE EXTENSION

A conditional use is a land use that, because of its unique characteristics or potential impact on the county, surrounding neighbors, or adjacent land uses, may not be compatible in some areas or may be compatible only if certain conditions are required that mitigate the detrimental impacts.

The Planning Commission may extend the termination date for a previously approved Conditional Use if a written request is submitted before the original expiration date and if an extension is necessary to achieve substantial justice. However, a Conditional Use may only be enlarged once, for a maximum period of five years. Any such request must meet the applicable notice requirements for a Conditional Use. Importantly, this request for additional time is not considered a rehearing under UCLUO 16.

PROCEDURE

The Planning Commission holds a public meeting for all conditional use extension request applications. The Planning Commission meets on the third Tuesday of the month. The public meeting by the Planning Commission begins at 5:30 p.m. in the Commission Chambers, Utah County Administration Building (100 E. Center Street, Provo, Suite 1400). It is recommended that you or your appointed representative be present at the public meeting at 5:30 p.m. to explain your case and answer questions.

For all requests for a conditional use extension, an "Application for a Conditional Use Extension" shall be obtained from the Community Development Department and completed.

The application shall contain all requested information and be submitted to the Community Development Department for review by 5:00 p.m. on the Monday 28 days prior to the next regularly scheduled meeting (Planning Commission meetings are held on the third Tuesday of each month).

The administrative fee of $250.00 must be paid before the application can be accepted and is not refundable.

The Community Development Department will provide required notice and accept comments on the application.

The Planning Commission will review the application at a public meeting and will typically make a decision on the request the day of the public meeting. You will receive written notice of the decision approximately one week after the meeting date.

A conditional use approval expires if the applicant does not obtain a building permit (or other applicable permit or license) prior to the date the Planning Commission extension approval is given.

The personal data collected on this form is classified as a public record and may be made available to the public as provided by Utah Code 63G-2-201.
